An image sensor is a semiconductor device for converting an optical image into an electrical signal. Image sensors are largely classified into charge coupled device (CCD) image sensors and complementary metal oxide semiconductor (CMOS) image sensors (CIS). An image sensor includes a plurality of pixels for detecting an optical image. Each pixel includes a photodiode (PD) which converts an incident light into an electrical signal, and a plurality of transistors for sensing, transferring and outputting the electrical signals of the PDs. The resolution and operation speed of an image sensor may be largely affected by the arrangement of the plurality of pixels.Q: Adding a new column in DataFrame with different size of the column I was trying to add a new column into DataFrame that I can get the count of the number of rows for each DataFrame. count_rows = df.stack().groupby(level=0).apply(lambda x: len(x)).unstack() print(count_rows) df['new_column'] = df['date'].map(count_rows) How can I do it directly without applying the lambda function to count? date id count 0 2020-08-30 1 1 1 2020-08-31 1 1 2 2020-09-01 1 3 3 2020 3e33713323
