"Motion was the starting point for FIFA's Ultimate Team experience and next year we're bringing a player's distinct form of movement to the main game," said Ignacio Algorta, Studio Head FIFA at EA SPORTS. "Fifa 22 Product Key's multiplayer matches will be more dynamic and more realistic, as we build a next-gen experience." As the official worldwide developer of the FIFA franchise, EA SPORTS is focused on developing the very best versions of the FIFA franchise on current and future-generation platforms. FIFA 22 is the first FIFA title to feature "HyperMotion Technology." This new gameplay element, which includes the ability to turn off player control, significantly enhances real-life player movement and ensures a more authentic experience as players execute the high-intensity, high-tempo football of the FIFA franchise. The player will also be able to switch between the real-life form of movement (which will be more dynamic and realistic) and the purely digital form, by pausing gameplay with the button combination of X/Y (Xbox/Playstation controller button, or controller button and the cross in the PlayStation 4 controller). The FIFA franchise remains the most authentic and realistic football simulation, offering players the chance to walk, dribble and pass like real-life football stars. In addition to new and improved gameplay features, FIFA 21 also introduced game modes that make FIFA more accessible to a broader audience. The new Choose your Style in Career Mode allowed players to choose from three customisable game modes after completing the Career Mode, providing a deeper and more varied gameplay experience. The free-kick system has been further enhanced, and Red Star Generation allows for more realistic free kicks by giving fans the ability to experience free kicks from the best of the best football superstars. "It's always a challenge to create a game that really feels like it's from another time and place, and FIFA is one of the rare franchises that has the ability to do that in a really meaningful way," said Rob Hollingsworth, Producer on FIFA 21. "We wanted to create a game that had a wide variety of football styles and sizes, so that you can play the way you want to play." "The new exclusive playable characters are an exciting new addition to the FIFA franchise," said David Rutter, Creative Director on FIFA 21. "We've worked very

FIFA (Federation Internationale de Football Association) is the definitive football simulation for the home computer and console, a series known for its realism and depth of gameplay. Developed by EA Canada, the series is published by Electronic Arts and distributed in more than 180 countries around the world, and can be played by millions of footballers daily. FIFAScore™ is the official simulation of the FIFA family. www.fifa.com Gameplay Features EA SPORTS' FIFA series adds innovation to fundamental gameplay features, creating a new generation of football simulation that captures the intensity and unpredictability of the sport. New Player Behaviour Model FIFA 22 introduces a new Player Behaviour Model (PBM) that reflects player decisions and intent. It analyses player data to determine characteristics such as attacking speed, tackling, stamina, positioning and shooting. This gives players a much more informed feeling of who they are playing as and, as a result, a more immersive game experience. Identity Manager The new Identity Manager feature lets players tailor their player identity to suit their personality and the player role they want to play. Players can select one of three profiles: Intelligent, Dynamic and Contemporary. With Intelligent and Dynamic, your profile will be less aggressively minded and will reflect the preferences of more balanced players. For example, Intelligent will be more deliberate and Dynamic will be more aggressive. Contemporary, meanwhile, will be more optimistic, fan-friendly and proud of your footballing achievements. You can then select your preferred appearance, style of play and squad role, and even add a short name and nickname to put your face and personality across. Every decision in the Identity Manager is customisable. You can also choose to share your player details to social networks or your friends. New Player Interface The new Player Interface system lets you see a high level of detail with depth. Players and information will be more intuitively presented and accessible across the visual hierarchy. Enhanced Visuals FIFA 22 introduces more than 800 new visual effects, furthering the realism and immersion of the game experience. 20 New Stadiums We've rebuilt all our game's 22 playable stadiums from scratch, including brand new stadiums built in partnership with some of the world's best facilities, such as the Allianz Arena and the Camp Nou. New Broadcast Presentation As well as updating the television broadcasts bc9d6d6daa
